SOCIETY'S ADVANCE.

The evolution of Montana society from frontier conditions to an advanced civilization is strikingly illustrated by the conviction of Roberts at Butte. Court was in session at the time when he committed the murder for which he has been condemned; a special grand jury was summoned and an indictment found; with the least possible delay his trial was proceeded with, which resulted trial was proceeded with, which resulted promptly in a verdict of guilty, and me to make big bins, and I did this more within two weeks after the commission of his crime, he is sentenced to suffer the law. There of his crime, he is sentenced to suffer the extreme penalty of the law. There is no community within the area of Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence where conditite note to Mr. Lincoln thanking him for little viction could have followed guilt his promptness, and saying the company's with more promptness and certainty, other work of this character would be sent with more promptness and certainty. of offenders this instance is by no means singular in the recent history of the territory. The Bryson case is equally significant. The disappearance of the woman Lundstrom was surrounded by every circumstance of mystery; but the local authorities were equal to the task of fixing the guilt upon the murderer, and court and jury performed their parts with unfaltering devotion. There is a notable contrast here to the failure of notable all the elaborate police machinery that | For sale by R. S. Hale & Co. exists in Chicago to apprehend the slayer

THE proposed meeting of the Helena Board of Trade to take steps for the relief of sufferers from the appalling disaster at Johnstown, Penn., failed for the want of a quorum. In view of this failure, the city council, on the motion of Ald. Loeb, directed the mayor to take action in the premises, and he has issued a call for a meeting of citizens to

The Moslem's Belief.

Egyptian Note Book: Every Moslem be lieves devoutly in a personal God, in an overruling Providence, in the mission and miracles of Christ, whom they designate as the Messiah, in the duty of prayer, in the immortality of the soul, in a future state of rewards and punishments, and in the inspiration of the Bible. An educated Moslem, if asked why he does not become a Christian, may not improperly reply that, according to his own interpretation of the New Testament, he is one airrady. Thus, in a letter lately received from one of my friends, he styles himself "a Moslem and a Christian at the same time."
